New Superintendent Has Inherited Problems

In the face of all the difficulties he has inherited, Persy County's new superintendent, Dennis Wooten, will need all the help and aid the people of this county can give him.

The next several months will indeed be difficult ones. Besides the routine tasks of managing one of the largest single businesses within this county, he will also have the tremendous burden of correcting the endless abuses which marked his predecessor's administration.

He obviously will, as he himself first stated, have to install managerial systems where only turmoil has existed. His problems in transportation alone are enough to keep several men busy. The use of credit cards has been abused; county vehicles have obviously been utilized for pleasure trips with possibly the taxpayers footing the gasoline bill.

The State has already indicated it will not allow the county system to pay bills which cannot be documented. And with the claims against the county being sizeable, Mr. Wooten has the problem of straightening these out to the advantage of the taxpayers.

We can only urge here that if it seems the county school system does not move too efficiently within the next several months, it will only be because of what was inherited by Mr.

To Much Secrecy Surrounds County Proceedings

Nothing has more dramatically illustrated this pass week why Kentucky law requires public advertisements on official proceedings and sealed bids on purchases made by governmental units than has the turmoil in the Perry County School System.

Certainly, had Gilbert Bowling and the Perry County Board of Education abided by the laws of this State, then some of the deficit in the county school treasury would have been reduced.

Unfortunately, the attitude that "the public doesn't need to know" is all too prevalent within our county.

As yet, the county budget has not been published as required by Kentucky law. The reason being given, of course, that the "county doesn't have the money." While we can sympathize with the problems faced by County Judge J. A. Smith and recognize that they are many and complex, we are not in sympathy with any attitude which in essence calls for the laws of this State to be taken lightly.

Bidding Is Irregular

With respect to the Perry County School Board, bids were accepted, Monday night, on coal, under a bidding system that was highly irregular. In fairness to the Board and its new superintendent, we should point out here that they are in the midst of total confusion and considering what the board has apparently been going through the past several months, it is little wonder that members overlooked the prescribed manner for obtaining bids.

During Monday's board meeting, it was revealed the county school system recently purchased a sewer device costing over $6,000 and costing $... Both purchases were completely illegal. State purchases were completely illegal. State

Wooten,

We urge the public and especially, teachers, to recognize that Mr. Wooten is undertaking to correct one of the most flagrant examples of mismanagement in the history of this or any other Kentucky county. The problem Mr. Wooten is attempting to solve are many and complex—they cannot be corrected overnight by Mr. Wooten or any other man.

We know he has the best wishes of everyone within the county, and we are sure he will keep the best interests of the children of this county in mind at all times.

law, and it is a law common to most States, requires that bids be taken on purchases exceeding $500. Had the bids on coal been taken correctly, there is the possibility one firm within the area would have bid on the entire county system. Such a bid, of course, would have well exceeded $500.

This Includes Us

It also came to light that the M. C. Napier cafeteria has been purchasing its milk from one firm—with no bids being taken. Needless to say, such is unfair competition to other firms which do business within this region. And then too, there's always the question of whether or not the milk couldn't have been purchased cheaper had it been bidden.

We don't restrict this editorial to others. The Herald is in the commercial printing business, and as this writer has told any number of public officials, we are perfectly willing and encourage them to obtain their printing under the bid system. It's the only right way, the only legal way under law for purchases "likely" to exceed $500, and the only honest method for protecting the county treasury and the taxpayers.

By the same token, however, this newspaper will continually reveal which officials are not keeping the public informed and will do everything within its power to force out into the open for publication the information and proceedings which Kentucky law specifies must be published before becoming legal. Tragically, the public bodies' cannot be required to advertise for bids on purchases under $500. But on purchases reasonably expected to require more than this amount, it is only right that the business go to the firm which can do the best job the cheapest.

Average Pocketbook Is No Bottomless Well

Where does it end? Once again the federal government is speaking of new postal increases for next year and higher federal gasoline taxes to meet the expected deficit.

Anyone who spend money for any purpose today knows that prices are constantly going up. The government doesn't need to point this out. However, if the government were in the same position as most of us, they would realize that there is a limit. The average citizen's pocket book is far from being a bottomless well of money.

When the price of a necessity goes up, the housewife can't go to the bus band and say she has to bring home more money. She is forced to do without something else in order to get the necessity.

Every business man today knows that he can't keep raising the price of his product or service in order to meet his rising costs. He knows that he must find ways to cut corners and decrease his ordinary expenditures in order to meet the rising costs. Or else he goes out of business.

If this economic fact is true for the average citizen, certainly it must have some application to our governments. Maybe our congressional and executive leaders in Washington need to take a little closer look at what's going on in the cities and towns around them. Maybe they need to give a little more thought to the fact that our pocket books aren't bottomless wells.

The people of Harlan County and the entire Eastern Kentucky coal region know what happens when the price of a product becomes too high for the public to buy it. Isn't it possible that democracy, like coal, is being priced out of the market?

Mr. Bowling And Board Bear Burden of Guilt

fore the people of this county forget the actions of Mr. Bowling and certain members of the Board.

Unfortunately, there is a third party involved—the people of Perry County. So long as we remain apathetic to ramshackle school buildings, believe that public office is for our own personal gain, and desire that teaching positions go not to the best qualified but to persons with the most votes—we can never hope, even with a well-heeled treasury, to have more than a substandard school system.

Teachers Driven Out

Some of the finest teachers in the this and other States have been driven out of the Perry County school system because they rightly refused to become pawns in a game of political chess and favoritism and will not lower their teaching standards to cater to some parents of political influence.

Before law, Mr. Bowling and the County Board of Education are to blame. You and I have only our conscience to answer too—a vehicle of the mind all too capable of grandiose rationalization.

Our Readers Write

Dear Sir:

Only today did I learn that Willie Dawahare, my longtime friend is running for office in Hazard.

If it would not be too much trouble, I would appreciate your publishing this note.

In my travels to the various sections of the country, I have come in contact with many men. My memories of Hazard are vivid because my family and I made many friends. We never think of Hazard without thinking of Willie. He is a credit to your town and anyone should be proud to have him serve as a public official.

He is a very personable man and has for years helped with all civic affairs. His honest and integrity are beyond reproach. I endorse him whole-heartedly and strongly urge the people to vote for him.

REEDIEY, CALIF., EXPONENT

Radio To Furnish Another Vital Link In Flood Control and Flood Warning

Gurney Norman

The "new look" that seems to be sweeping over Hazard and much of Perry County has reached even the mountain tops, and we don't mean Peter's Peak

Chavies Mountain, about five miles from Buckhorn and said to be one of the highest points in Perry County at 1540 feet, is bald at the peak and a 90 foot steel tower reaches toward the clouds from there.

The stainless-steel structure, about five feet in circumference, is part of an intricate flood-warning system that has been devised and is in the process of being installed as another of the many steps in the eventual flood control the Buckhorn Dam will bring

Tower Is Relay Station

The tower is a relay station providing close communication with a control tower at the dam and unattended, tone controlled inflow stations at Hyden on the Middle Fork of the Kentucky River, and at Wootton on Cutshin Creek. The stations are equipped with float-operating gauges that measure the height of water in the two streams.

Sudden rises in the water in either stream would automatically be relayed to the control tower on the dam at Buckhorn, and if the warning is severe enough, the dam ports can be closed to protect the area below the dam.

La Citadelle Visible

The tower itself required about two months to construct, with Mr. Harry Rankin, an engineering aid with the Army engineers whose main job is field construction, and two helpers from Buckhorn doing the work. Actual construction could not begin until a road was fashioned around the steep hill from the Buckhorn road to the site. Then the trees and underbrush had to be cleared away to make room for the concrete base and guy lines that support the tower.

A magnificent view can be had by anyone hardy enough to climb to the top of the lean structure. Mr. Rankin said on a clear day 14 distant mountain ranges could be seen, as well as the top of La Citadelle on Peter's Peak.

Another vital link in the Buckhorn flood-warning system is the network of rainfall stations far up the Middle Fork. Paid observes call in when the measurable rainfall exceeds one half inch, alerting the control tower operator, who in turn refers to the inflow stations at Hyden and Wootton for the complete flood picture.

The tower is set to go into operation as soon as radio equipment is installed and the other stations are operating. The warning system will be perfected about a year before the dam is completed to avoid any possible last-minute difficulty.

The tower and the warning system will not interfere with local television reception, Mr. Rankin said.

Ward Beecher Allen Is Called by Death

Once again, a brother mason having completed the designs written for him on life's trestle board, has passed through the portals of eternity to a land from which no traveler has ever returned. Almighty God, in his infinite wisdom, has called from his labor on earth to his reward on high, our friend, brother and father.

Ward Beecher Allen was born Feb. 6, 1893, passed to his reward on Sept. 20, at St. Mays Hospital, Huntington, W. Va., being 65 years 6 months and 14 days old. His parents, Jacob and Judith Turner Allen predeceased him in death. One brother, James Richard (Bunt) Allen, Hindman and one sister, Madge Casey, of Hueysville, survive.

He was married to Eva McDaniel of Horse Cave, who predeceased him in death several years ago, and to this union was born one son, Floyd Beecher Allen, who is teacher in Martin High School, Martin, who is left to mourn his passing. He was married the second time to Clara Sloane Young, of Hindman, and to this union was born one son, Joe Michael, both of whom survive his passing.

He was in the service of his country during World War one and survived several months overseas, was also a teacher in the Floyd county schools for several years, and later was connected with the Inland Gas Corp., as Land Agent (in Floyd and Knott Counties) until his retirement two years ago.

His pleasing and amiable personality brought him many friends from all walks of life and we, his friends and neighbors mourn his passing realizing that his life was a valuable influence for good in this community, which he called home.

He was a true, faithful Mason. He served humanity as he lived as he followed the great light of Masonry, the Holy Bible, he was presented a 25 year masonic pin, March 25, 1953.

Two Dies As Result Of Car Accident

Mrs. Moille Mae Shepherd Owens died Sept. 20. She was born in Knott County on Ball Fork of Troublesome near Soft Shell. She is the daughter of John Shepherd and Artie Gayheart Huff Shepherd in the year 1905, Nov. 28.

She leaves five half sisters, Mrs. Lonie Lane of Wayland, Mrs. Clearcie Terry of Garner, Mrs. Rainey Conley of Garrett, Mrs. Vergie Conley of Middle-town, Ohio and Mrs. Ora Hicks of Middle Creek. Her father still lives and is living on Big Branch near Hindman.

Joel Owens died Sept. 28 from injuries received in a car wreck on Sept. 20 the same crash which killed his wife, Mrs. Marie Shepherd Owens.

He was the son of John and Helen Sloane Owens, he leaves three brothers to mourn his loss. Alva Owens of Hindman, Kenneth Owens of Lackey and Edward Owens of Garner; and three sisters; Mrs. Gracie Sloane of Soft Shell, Mrs. Ethel Caudill and Mrs. Mary Tuttle both live in Baptism Bottom near Lackey. His mother, Mrs. Helen Owens lives at Garner.

They also left seven children to mourn their loss; four daughters, Mrs. Juanita Boleyn of Auburn, Ind. Mrs. Beretta Hays of Garner, Mrs. Geneva Owens of Monsie and Mrs. Joy Fay Childers of Sunman, Ind.

Three sons: Arthur of Columbus, Ohio; Wayne and Jim Durrell both of Monsie. Both belonged to the Old Regular Baptist Church and were good neighbors in their community. They will be sadly missed by all who knew them.

Visitors In Dayton, Ohio

Mr. and Mrs. Luther M. Combs visited their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Carroll Jr., in Dayton, Ohio, over the weekend. While Mr. and Mrs. Combs and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll attended the presentation of the world famous show of Holiday on Ice 1959 San Diego, Calif.

Ford brings Thunderbird elegance to the low-price field with

THE WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFULLY PROPORTIONED CARS

The new Fords for 1959 have a casual kind of elegance—the fresh crispness of design that distinguishes the Thunderbird. They are beautifully different from all other cars—and from all other Fords. This new beauty was recognized at the Brussels World's Fair. The 59 Fords, on preview, received the Gold Medal of the Comité Français de l'Elégance for beautiful proportions!

They have a straight-through appearance . . . a clean-cut look that is very open and airy. The entire glass area has been designed to give you the modern picture-window feeling of indoor-outdoor living. The new thin-line roof is actually a sensational engineering achievement—to give you even greater safety. Yet it has a gracefulness that will make riding in any other car seem "old hat."

And this easy elegance is traceable to the sporting heritage of the beautiful Ford Thunderbird. These Fords are altogether new.

But the most beautiful difference of all is money in your pocket. The 59 Fords are the standout buy in the low-price field. They are superbly designed to give you all the supreme beauty, comfort, power and performance that only Ford's creative engineering can bring you. Soon—October 17th—you'll be able to get that New Ford Feeling in the World's Most Beautifully Proportioned Cars!

Dean Lappin Honor Guest For Morehead Homecoming

Warren C. Lappin

All eyes will be focused on Dean Warren C. Lappin Saturday as Morehead State College observes its annual homecoming day, President Adron Doran announced today.

Dean Lappin, who has been at the Morehead institution since 1926, will be the honor guest at the various programs which are scheduled for the day.

Highlight of the day's activities will be the dedication ceremonies which will officially name the science building Lappin Hall. It will take place at 11:00 a.m. in front of the building.

Speakers for the dedication include Governor A. B. "Happy" Chandler, one-time schoolmate of Dr. Lappin at Transylvania College; Paul L. Croshout, Superintendent of Bardstown School; representing U.S. Army General Elia O. Wilkins, professor of geography at Morehead, who will represent the University; and Robert Lowe, by Colonel Bowe, who became a famous frontiersman after migrating to Texas was the representative of the student body.

Each of these speakers will make remarks signifying the popularity of Bowie knife.

City Fathers Authorize Attorney To Sue For Urban Renewal Land

Hazard city fathers have given City Attorney Ernest Faulkner authority to bring suit against hold-outs in the city's Urban Renewal Project along East Main Street.

Faulkner got the go ahead signal to sue for the land Monday night during the monthly board meeting, after he told the commissioners.

The city officials and housing commission has worked long and hard in an effort to buy this property, but so far has been unsuccessful in purchasing only four of the eight properties involved, which amounts to 50 percent of the total amount of money.

Condemnation Suits
No indication has been given as to when the city will file the condemnation suits. A last minute effort will probably be made to buy the property outright before any civil action is taken.

Mr. Ira Estep, of Elkhorn, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Cash Barger at Saul over the weekend.

Miss Ernestine Woods, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Woods of Saul has recently started to school at Clay County. She likes her new school very much.

Miss Elsie Mae Bradley, of Saul, has recently visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jep Gay at Squab Creek.

Cheerleaders Are Chosen

Misses Phyllis and Diane Robinson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Robinson of Maple Street in Hazard, were recently chosen cheerleaders at Western Kentucky State College. The cheerleaders are elected by the student body.

Phyllis, an elementary education major has served cheerleaders for three years.

Diane, a freshman, is a physical education major and was captain of the Hazard State Chaplin Cheerleaders of 1958.

Both girls are graduates of Hazard High School and former Bulldog cheerleaders.

Mr. Thomas Bowling, of Bowltown, visited with Miss Elsie Mae Bradley at Saul, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Lottie Turner, of Ohio, attended the church service at Saul. Other attenders were: Glenn and Patti Couch of Bullskin, Mrs. Chloe Couch from Rush, Mr. Jim Estep Jr. of Bullskin, Mr. and Mrs. John Gay and family, Mrs. Minnie Gay, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Spurlock, Mr. and Mrs. Rufe Gay and family all of Buffalo, also Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Gibson of Sizerock.

Starts At School

LEATHERWOOD LOCALS

Hunters Lost Way In Woods

C. R. Mooney

Sheila King, daughter of Logan King, has returned from Florida.

Bee Halcomb and Willis Combs were two lost hunters last week when they hunted at the head of Leatherwood and Turkey. They discovered they had gone about forty miles and ended up on Little Leatherwood.

Two mountaineers should know the woods better than that, it seems.

Death came to Elbert Bradley, age 22, son of Virgil Banks and Marcellis Bradley of Beech

HEINER

Visitors Spent Week-End Here

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Woods of Dayton, Ohio, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pendergrass. Mr. and Mrs. Craft Keene were also guests of the Pendergrass family.

Clay Moore visited in Quick- sand the past Saturday.

Cecil Gilbert, of Danville, visited Mr. and Mrs. Felix Parker during the past weekend.

Jessie Merrill, of Mansfield, Ohio, visited the Cecil Noble family on Saturday.

Pearl Pratt, of Bluegrass, visited Mr. and Mrs. Jasper White the past weekend.

Thinking Aloud

The man who says, "I run things at my house," usually refers to the lawn mower, the washing machine, the furnace, the vacuum sweeper, and the errands.

A chip on the shoulder always indicates that there is wood higher up.

Many a person who can't add can certainly distract.

I'm sure there must be a lot of new subscribers to the Hazard Herald now since the O.F.B.D. had such a good price for the paper. I subscribe for the Herald to be sent to my brother-in-law, Mr. Willie Rice who lives in Dayton, Ohio.

We hope how soon Mr. James Caudill will be able to come home from the hospital.

Mr. Ernest Fritts subscribed for the Hazard Herald during O.F.B.D. week and also Mr. Harlan Gross did too.

Mr. Dan Byrd is sick at his home. We hope how soon Mr. Byrd you will be well again.

Better the storm with Christ than the still waters with him.

'Pasture' Not Eligible Under Soil Bank, Says ASC. Chairman, Green Brashear

Numerous open pasture and range lands are not "eligible" under the Soil Bank's Conservation Reserve program, Green B. Brashear, Chairman, Perry the Chairman, includes, first, any land from which a crop was harvested or which was in a regular crop rotation during the year immediately before the first year of a Conservation Reserve contract. "This is the only time 'pasture' may be included in the program—when it was in a regular crop rotation during the previous year," he declared.

Secondly, Mr. Brashear explained, "Eligible" land includes land from which tame hay was harvested for hay or silage in either of the 2 years immediately before the first year of contract. (Tame hay is defined as a stand of perennial grasses or legumes normally established for hay by land preparation and seeding.)

"This is in accord with the legislation authorizing the Conservation Reserve," Chairman Green B. Brashear said, "which directs that the program practices shall be carried out on farm land regularly used in the production of crops (including crops such as tame hay, alfalfa, and clover, which do not require annual tillage.)"

"Farmers who want to participate in the Construction Reserve next year should keep in mind that land is not eligible for the program (1) when it is in noncrop open pasture or range, or (2) when it is planted to small fruit, vineyards, nursery stock, orchard or nut trees—neither is the land between the rows of these crops eligible. Land also is not eligible if it is owned by the Federal Government or by a corporation wholly owned by the Federal Government."

The Conservation Reserve offering an initial cost-sharing payment for conservation practices and annual rental payments for the term of the contract—is the only Soil Bank program that will be available for 1959. The Acreage Reserve, which applies to "basic" allotment crops, is being discontinued after 1958.

Hospital Official To Speak At Bowman Methodist Services

Dr. A. H. Evans, Administrator of the Methodist Hospital in Pikeville, Ky., will be the Guest Minister at the Bowman Memorial Methodist Church on Sunday morning, October 12, at 10:50 A. M.

Hearing Scheduled For Truck Permit

Frankfort, Oct. 8 — The Department of Motor Transportation scheduled a hearing for Monday, Oct. 27, at 9:30 o'clock CST in the offices here on the application of Speck Cornett Distributor, Inc., of Lothrop, for a contract carrier truck permit, announced Commissioner Martin S. Petty.

The applicant wants a permit not restricted to exempt commodities for hauling powder, fuse, caps and any other explosives for The American Cyanamid Co. of New York, Petty said, "and pick-up of the explosives will be at the plant in Neon and Avawam in Perry County."

Delivery of the commodities will be, the Commissioner continued, within 100 miles radius serving Perry, Leslie, Clay, Harlan, Letcher and Knott counties.

Granting of the application may be protested by anyone filing duplicate copies of complaints with DMT and mailing a copy to the applicant not later than 10 days before hearing date.

Dr. Evans is a Methodist Minister, a member of the Central Kansas Annual Conference.

He came to Pikeville in July 1957 to assume the leadership of the Methodist Hospital in that city.

Prior to that date Dr. Evans served as the Superintendent of the Wesley Hospital in Wichita, Kansas, for eight years. During World War II, he served as a chaplain attached to the Army hospital work. It is a privilege to have Dr. Evans visit in our community and bring a message to the people of the Bowman Memorial Methodist, stated a worker in the church.

At the evening worship service on Oct. 12, at 7:00 p. m., Rev. E. Tipton Carroll will be the guest minister at the Bowman Memorial Methodist Church.

Mr. R. W. Gibson will be the presiding officer at these worship services on Oct. 12.

All members are urged to be present and friends are cordially invited to come and worship at the Bowman Memorial Methodist Church in Hazard.

Vacationing In Florida

Rev. and Mrs. Sam Combs of Jeff are vacationing and visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ira Samuel Combs and daughter, Cathy E. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin K. Combs and son, M. K. Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey M. Combs and son, Harvey Jr., all of Miami, Fla. They are also visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rowell and family of Opa Locka, Fla.

The funeral was at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at W.R. Milward Mortuary here; burial, Lexington Cemetery.

Who in the world built this beauty...
the only car with wide-track wheels?

EXCLUSIVELY YOURS—WIDE-TRACK WHEELS

Wheels moved out 5 inches for the widest, steadiest stance in America—better cooling for engine and brakes—lower center of gravity for better grip on the road, safer cornering, smoother ride, easier handling. You get the most beautiful roadability you've ever known—in America's Number ① Road Car!

PONTIAC! America's Number ① Road Car!

Those exclusive Wide-Track Wheels sparked a chain reaction of wonderful new ideas: You can see the trim, tailored new look . . . it's inches lower without sacrificing roominess or road clearance. The first time you drive it, you'll discover this beauty handles city corners and clings to country curves in a way the conventional narrow-gauge cars can't hope to imitate. And the ride . . . the miraculous freedom from sway, dive and bounce . . . this is an experience in buoyant travel that you won't believe—until you try it.

But there's still more to the new Pontiac to stamp it as the big change for '59:

Vista-lounge interiors with full 360-degree visibility . . . seats actually wider than a sofa . . . Air-Cooled True Contour Brakes for smooth, effortless control, stop after stop after stop.

The industry's most advanced V-8, Pontiac's Tempest 420, gives you spectacular new responsiveness. And there's a new companion power plant, the Tempest 420E, that delivers phenomenal extra mileage—and does it on regular octane gas!

Come see why no other car can possibly be so new as the new Pontiac—three series, magnificent Bonneville, dramatic Star Chief and brilliant new Catalina.

2 Great New Engines

If you like action—you get the liveliest on wheels with the new Tempest 420 V-8, acclaimed by automotive experts as America's most advanced power plant.

If you want the accent on economy, choose Pontiac's new Tempest 420E. This new V-8 actually delivers better mileage than many smaller cars with so-called economy engines . . . and it uses regular octane fuel.

Trapsin Troublesome

Corinne Clarke

The other day Mrs. Calvin Huff cooked down a leg of lamb then baked it in the oven so Calvin sat down to feast in mutton. His feast was cut short as some mutton hung up in his throat and wouldn't come up nor go down and cut Calvin short on breath and he just knew he was choked to death.

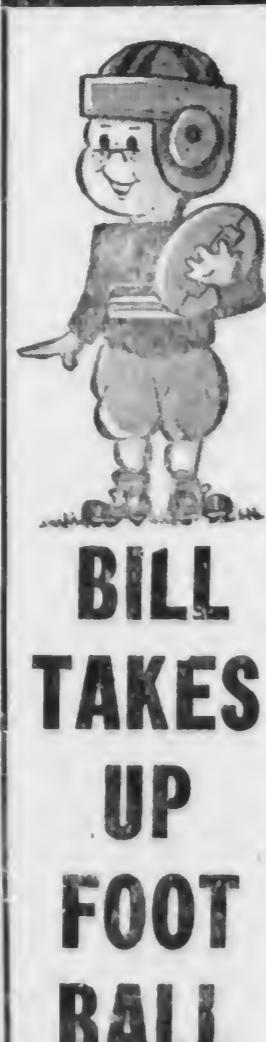

He went to Dr. Gene Watts but the doctor couldn't retrieve the mutton so he told Calvin to go outside the office, gag himself and try to cough up. Calvin did just that and about the time he just knew he was a goner that piece of mutton jumped from his neck and Calvin said the last time he saw the mutton it landed clear down the street and kept on going. I asked Calvin if he was part Hays and he said, "No, why do you ask that?" Well, it's the Hays fellers from away back that always said, "Now if you'll go home with me we'll kill a mutton."

My younguns were given the mutton test before they could walk to see if they had the Hays born right in them and I learned I'd just as well like mutton too as I've had to fix a lot of it for them younguns.

Now Rob Messor got a bad fall the other day and is complaining with the rib trouble. He got to by getting a ground hog grom is hole and he feasted high on that hog. He also got a fall off his house top recently which banged him up a bit. He was fixing the roof, getting ready for winter. Rob said "Ah, Well, a fellow eighty-two years old shouldn't be taking chances on his life by climbing around." Rob's eighty two, age and active and has dug out enough coal from a mine to run him through this winter.

had 915 words, written by Mildred Nan Baker, Upper Broadway School, Hazard.

The writer of the winning essay in each school is eligible for a certificate of merit from the contest sponsors. A $25.00 U.S. Savings Bond will be presented to the writer of the winning essay in each county or soil conservation district. At least five entries must be submitted from a district before this award can be made.

The first-place entry from each district will be judged for state awards. Winners of state awards will receive $100.00, $75.00 and $50.00 bonds.

All essays from a school must be taken to the office of the school superintendent not later than midnight, Dec. 6.

You may gather information from the following sources: Soil conservation service technicians, county agents, vocational agriculture teachers, University of Kentucky College of Agriculture or experienced farmers or leaders.

The contest is sponsored each year by the Courier Journal, The Louisville Times, WHAS, and WIAS-TV, in cooperation with the State Association of Soil Conservation Districts and the State Department of Education.

Airman Avid V. Napier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arlis Napier of Leatherwood, has completed his initial course of Air Force basic military training here. He has been selected to attend the technical training school for Aircraft Missle Maintenance at Chanute AFB, Ill.

Arman Napier is a graduate of Buckhorn High School and studied chemistry at Union College, prior to entering the Air Force.

Basic airmen at Lackland are selected for specialized training at technical schools on the basis of their interests and aptitudes.

They are reassigned to the school after four weeks of basic and are given additional military basic training along with the technical subjects.

'THE PROMISE FULFILLED'

Luke 2:40.

The Promise fulfilled! All down the years since the history of mankind, the Promise had been given. By word of mouth; written in the Scriptures by holy men who had been taught by the Holy Ghost; hearts that were quickened by the Holy Spirit; minds that were brightened with hope that one day a Saviour should be given. The old Testament rings with the Word of God telling of the Coming Saviour, from the Garden of Eden, after the sin of man, down thru the latest of the prophets, Zachariah.

A Promise is a wonderful thing, especially when given to us by God, for His Promises never fail. If the Promise is wonderful, how much more the fulfillment of that Promise!

An old man who had been going to Prayer Meeting all of his life came home one Wednesday evening to his wife and shouted as he burst into the door: "It's true! It's true!" "What is true?" asked his wife, very much concerned by her quiet husband's unexpected outburst. "The Gospel!", he declared!

What had happened to this man? He had been accepting all of his life the teaching of the fulfillment of the Promise of God in Christ and that evening he discovered it for himself. The Holy Spirit had shown him the Light and the Joy and the Glory of the Gospel for himself. Do we know the Gospel is true? Are we living daily in the joy of the fulfillment of the Promise of God in the Person of His son, Jesus Christ?

This morning while straightening up my room and putting a quilt on the bed, I thought: "Some loving hands, made this quilt and sent it to the School for us here in this Christian institution where boys and girls and men and women are seeking to teach and to learn the lesson and the blessing of the Promise Fulfilled." Like a chain reaction the thoughts continued. Did not Someone make every drop of water, every grain of sand. Did not Someone set the stars in place; create the Sun and the Moon. Did not Someone make the day, creating light, ordering our steps in the way. Did not Someone make every tangible and intangible blessing that surrounds us and make possible our life today and each day throughout our lives? Surely this is true for each of us. We live by grace thru Faith. There is no one of us who does not daily receive an innumerable number of blessings, all the Thought of the Loving Mind and Heart Who upholds all things by the Powers of His Holy Will and who fashions us in His Image for His Glory, numbering the very hairs of our heads. WHAT A BLESSING IS THE FULFILLMENT OF HIS PROMISE TO EVERY BELIEVING HEART!

Then it happened! Not as expected, with a strong deliverer in armour and might, but at the Promise was fulfilled when the Baby was born. The Promise had said: "And His name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace." (Isaiah 9:6).

In this Baby, born in a Bethlehem Manger, the Promise was fulfilled. God had come to live in flesh. "Never man so spake." Truly this was the Son of God." These are the words of His enemies. The light came to shine in Israel. "He came unto His own and his own received him not, but as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on His name, which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, but of God." (John 1:11-13).

This Promise, was given not to a small group of people, but to all the world. It was given, not alone to all the world, but to each individual who is born into the world. What a glorious good news! What a joy! That a prom-

TRUTH-AD FOR THE UNCHURCHED

BY WINN T. BARR

The whole history of mankind can be told in terms of love. Here is history in a nut-shell, in four simple steps:

1. God loved man and man loved God. This was the original state of man in innocence and holiness.

2. Man stopped loving God and began to love himself. This was the fall of man, the beginning of sin, suffering, and death.

3. God kept on loving man. This is God's love and grace, His incarnation and redemption.

4. Now some men love God again. This is the experience of salvation: conversion, forgiveness, new birth, the family of God, the Kingdom of God, the Church of God.

You see God's demand for love fits into the whole scheme of things. Everything points to the fact that God wants men to love Him. Do you?

Look for a TRUTH-AD every Thursday.

The good NEWS belongs in the NEWSPAPER, but LOOK in the BOOK it comes from, and SEARCH for the CHURCH that obeys that book most fully.

"Just Who Are You Son? One Of Ole Jim Caudill's Boys"

"Just who are you, son?"

"Me? I'm Fred W. Luigart Jr., editor of the Hazard Herald. I wanna get your starting line-up and some information on your team."

"Mercy me," replied Charlie Davis, coach of Benham High School, the team Hazard meets tomorrow night there, "I thought you was another of 'ole Jim Caudill's boys, wanting to flogger out what we're up too."

"You know," he continued, "you know Goebel Ritter? And what's that Wright boys name—yep, Paul Wright that it."

"Well," he jovially remarked, "they've been down around our country so much the past few weeks, they've got residency now and we're gonna register 'em to vote when Hazard comes down here, Friday night."

Ritter 'N Wright Scouts

"Why as much as Ritter and Wright been down around this country, I figured you boys up there would already have our plays engraved on a drugstore table."

"We sorta play a little bit of everything—nothing, mind you, Hazard can't beat though. Cau-able conversion and I did manage to get a starting line-up.

Benham, the sixth team the high-sailing locals go after, has a 5-1 record for the season with the only loss coming at the hands of Bell County, 13-0.

The tie was knotted with Lynch in the scoreless opener for both teams.

"Well, sir," I continued, sincerely trying to figure out what was coming off, "which of your boys should our fans keep an eye on?

"Now, son, that's a military secret."

Undefeated

Undefeated in six games and aiming for the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference crown, the Bulldogs against Benham have the opportunity of impressing sportswriters with their star-studded talent, including especially Tackle Harmon Petrey, Quarterback Ken Cobb, and Halfbacks Britt Handy and Astor "Cat" Sizemore, the State's leading scorer. All four are considered in the running for All-State laurels although the chances of more than one of them making the title team are slim.

Teamwork, Success Story Of Bulldogs

By Ben Fitzpatrick

How do you stop them? That is the question opposing coaches are asking, referring to the Hazard Bulldogs. The Bulldogs, with one of the best array of High School football talent in the state, have rolled over five opponents and have left little doubt that they are headed for an undefeated season. The squad has everything to win with. They have the talent, a great backfield, a great line. They have the best in coaches, Jim Caudill, Goebel Ritter, Paul Wright and John Quillan, and most important, they have team spirit and teamwork.

As you fans know, it takes eleven men to play football but Hazard can not only put 11 men on the field, they can put sixteen players out there who can play for any coach. Those sixteen are Astor Sizemore, Brit Handy, Ken Cobb, Harmon Petrey, John Farler, Wendell Combs, Jim Crutchfield, Decourse Halliburton, Newt Green, Joe Baker, Tom Fitzpatrick, Coke Cox, Paul Cox, Phil Turner, Buddy Smyly, and Bob Bassey.

A team can't win without spirit, the thirst to win. The 1958 Canines boast of a marvelous team spirit. The backs have much respect for the line and the line has much respect for the backs. In other words, the backs know that on any play where the line is suppose to open up a hole, the hole will be there and the line knows that if it opens a hole, the backs will always bite it. This kind of teamwork is hard to beat.

The tremendous Hazard backfield has really put the points on the scoreboard. All this scoring is made easy by the magnificent blocking of this Hazard team. Every member is an adopt blocker and the blockers, working together, always have a path for the back to tread. It is hard to point out any one Hazard back.

Astor Sizemore is undoubtedly all-state material. "Cat," as he is known to almost all, leads the state in scoring with 107 points and has averaged 6.1 yards a carry. The versatile Sizemore, who is also a defensive stalwart, handles the kicking where he is averaging 40.1 on punts and 46.3 on kick offs. Brit Handy the speedster of the backfield, is a potentially great college prospect. Handy is a powerfully built half back, who runs the 100 in 10.3 seconds. The fine running ability of Handy has stood out in a backfield with such backs as Sizemore and Ken Cobb. Handy, who has scored 30 points, runs with a high striding step and is very difficult to tackle. Handy is at every near the top of state halfbacks in rushing. But has averaged a fantastic 10.5 yards per carry and that does not tell all. Handy has also caught 4 passes for 104 yards and one touchdown. He is a five defensive halfback. The hard-working Handy is a real asset to the Bulldogs. Ken Cobb has finally made the grade as a first class quarterback. Cobb has always had two things going for him: Exceptional running ability and courage. This year Ken has added a keen football mind and has improved 100% in his passing. A football mind is the greatest asset to a good quarterback and now that Cobb appears to have obtained this, he is an A-1 Field General. Cobb has completed 14 out of 31 passes for 7 touchdowns and is averaging a great 9.5 yards per carry. It has been heard from several sources that Ken Cobb is considered one of the states top quarterback which is quite a compliment. One will hear a lot about Phil Turner and Buddy Smyly next year. Smyly is averaging 5.9 yard a carry and Turner, who is destined to become one of Hazard's all-time line-backers, 7 per carry.

Hazard's small but highly aggressive line is led by all-state candidate Harman Petrey and guard John Farler. The Bulldog line is relentless in its desire to get the ball carrier. Their vicious tackles have sent the ball spinning 23 times from the opposing backs and Hazard has recovered 17 of those fumbles. Petrey, who is a great tackle and Farler, who is vastly underrated, anchor down the Bulldog line. Hazard boasts of 4 good ends, Wendell Combs, a good blocker and pass receiver. Decourse Halliburton, the squads best downfield blocker and a rock on defense, Newt Green, a fine defensive end and Joe Baker, two year veteran who is out for the season as the result of an arm injury. The rest of the line is better than average, Tom Fitzpatrick, Jim Crutchfield, Coke Cox, Paul Cox, and Bob Bassey are all good. This line has allowed only 6 points (The other 6 were scored on 2nd team) while the backfield has rolled up 192 points.

These boys are good in their position and they know it takes 11 men, playing together, to win a football game. The players on the 1958 Hazard Football team are proud of their fine team work. One can tell a member of this team by the slight swagger in his walk and his head, held proudly looking people square in the eyes. They are ready at any moment to defend any member of the squad.

Napier To Tackle Undefeated Belfry Fullback, Smith, Worth Watching

As if having to play another of the State's p-victory No. 6, the only questions being how large the score and whether they can keep their goal-line unblemished.

Key man in the Belfry attack is Smith, a 195-pound fullback who is already getting overtures from the University of Kentucky, Alabama, where the "genius" Paul Bryant reigns. V. P. I., and Marshall College, where Wilson played his college ball.

A senior who has letter three times, Smith stands six feet and has a tremendous reputation for speed, power and deception. For local fans not taking by the Pike County eleven as per run.

Benham, Smith is worth watching. He's averaging 7.5 yards

Backs Are Talented

Belfry's backfield is somewhat like Hazard's—highly-talented—a fact which can't help but distract any opponent, including Napier. There's Quarterback Doug Scott, a 155-pound junior who has completed nine of 15 passes his season, five of them for touchdowns. Halfback Harold Sullivan, 155-pound junior with two letters, has a rushing average of 10.1 for the season. And the other halfback, George May, has an 8.1 average. May, incidentally is an oddity in football today. The youngster only weighs 120 pounds, but despite this lettered last year as a junior.

Across the front, Belfry will line up as follows: Richard Conley and Donnie Elkins at the ends. Conley, 165 pounds, is a junior owning one letter; Elkins weighs 172 pounds and is a two-letter senior Darrell Williams and Ronnie Tracy at the tackles. Williams, 182 pounds, and Tracy, 165 pounds, have each lettered once and are juniors. Charles Kayne and Bob Wooten at the guard positions. Kayne, 152 pounds, has lettered once. Wooten, 175 pounds, owns two numerals. Burt Moore, 175 pound senior is the center who has one letter, he is the center.

Wooten Highly Praised

Wooten is regarded one of the best guards in Southeastern Kentucky, and last year after Hazard Coach Jim Caudill observed him in action, he noted that the Belfry lad had played "the best game of any guard he saw play during the season." Coming from the successful Caudill, it was high praise for the Belfry linemen.

"Touchdown Twins"

When Lloyd, left, starring on defense for the M. C. Napier Navajos, shines as well on offense as his brother, Jerry Brewster, the title of Touchdown Twins may well belong to these twin halfbacks. Jerry currently paces his team in scoring with 18 points, getting 12 last week against Wheelwright.

Hazard High School Tackles

Memories Linger Of Former Days In Sports—Football Games Highlighted

By BILL CUNNINGHAM

"Oh, I love to hear the old songs..."

It seems there are always many who remember and many others who want to know what there was to remember. Here, recently, I told of detouring by Weld, Maine, to pay my respects to my first boss in Boston, Howard G. Reynolds, Sports Editor of late Boston Post through its great years. Now 79, a true patriarch, and the proud squire of a spacious estate within 10 miles of where he was born, the Colonel, as we knew him, naturally recalled many great stories of the long ago, including "The Saga of Centre College."

"Yeah, I remember," many have written. "What was Centre College, and why 'Saga'?" many others have asked. Well, it went this way:

Reynolds and Mahan Trek to Danville

Back in 1919, Howard trekked down to Princeton to cover a game between Princeton and West Virginia. This was football and Princeton was supposed to have a great team. The night before, the scribes were gathered at the Princeton Inn, and were spending the time swapping yarns. One finally got the floor and told the strangest story of all.

"I saw the darnest thing out at Indiana last week," he said, or words to this effect. "Indiana was playing an unheard of little outfit called Centre College, from Danville, Kentucky. The Centre team, with practically no substitutes, held Indiana scoreless for a half and then, instead of going to the dressing room, they sort of camped, Indian style, in the middle of the field."

"It must be a religious school of some kind because their President, a minister somebody said, came down from the stands and led them in prayer. It seemed to work, for they went on to beat Indiana, 12-3. It was the biggest upset in years in our part of the country."

It was just another of the night's many stories, but Reynolds was the sort of cleric whose memory was a filing cabinet. Next day, West Virginia blasted Princeton, 25-0, with a performance that had the experts hailing it as probably the most powerful team in the nation—Reynolds among them.

The following Saturday night, while making up his Sunday sports pages, Howard was checking the day's football scores when he chanced to see "Centre College 14-West Virginia 6." His memory immediately clicked, and within five minutes he had Eddie Mahan, then backfield coach at Harvard, if memory serves, on the telephone. In those days the local papers used guest-experts on football, and Eddie frequently served as such for the Post.

They were in Danville, Kentucky by Monday and started pouring the appealing story of this "14" David who was belting out the gridiron Goliaths back to Boston, whence the news service wires began to spread it nation wide. It was fascinating reading. It was also a natural, because the coach, trainer and practically everything else was Charley Moran, a Nation League umpire, well known here as elsewhere.

The school was small (400), Presbyterian, and the team or at least, the President, did pray before games—not for victory but that the boys would acquit themselves with credit to themselves, their school and the ideals of the game. Howard dubbed them "The Praying Colonels" and the name went nationwide.

As a result of this, and Mahan's recommendation, Harvard hooked them as a midseason attraction for the next year 1920. Howard and Eddie went down again and brought them up in high literary style. Harvard won, 31-14, but the Centre was so imaginative and spectacular that Fred Moore, Harvard Director of Athletics booked them for a 1921 replay on the spot.

The next year, on Oct. 29, 1921, practically the same Centre team thrilled the nation and stunned the Crimson with a 6-0 victory—the first time Harvard ever had been defeated in an late-season game. Bo McMillin, Centre quarterback, later

With the passing of this troupe, Centre gave it all up. The pressure and the publicity were far too disrupting. All that remains are the memories, and the Reynolds title of Colonel. That was formally bestowed upon him by the Governor of Kentucky, "with the gratitude of the state," and back in the days when it really meant something.

HINDMAN PERSONALS

Havana Hale Adams

Mr. and Mrs. Ova Combs and their small son, Rickey, of Louisville, spent last weekend with Mr. Combs' mother. Mrs. Ottie May Combs of Carrie. Also another son, Mr. and Mrs. James Combs of Airport Gardens below Hazard spent Sunday with the family. Sunday was their mother's birthday and all the family enjoyed the big dinner.

Miss Peggy Amburgey worked in Washington, D.C. this summer. She came home and spent two nights with her mother, Mrs. Armita Amburgey and went on to her second year in Transylvania College.

Sgt. James Fields, of Abilene, Texas, will be going to March Air Force Base, California in a few days for two weeks to get in some bombing practice. He says it is competitive and he hopes the Abilene, Tex base wins. He is a son of John and Bertha Fields of Pineytop.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilgis Nickles of Litt Carr, visited their daughter, Mrs. Paul R. Chaffins and her husband, Al Paul R. Chaffins of Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nickles.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Stone visited Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Edwards of St. Louisville, Ohio. Mrs. Edwards is sister to Mrs. Stone.

Aunt Polly Hall, of Red Fox, wants to go visit her son, Sam Hall in Hamilton, Ohio, but she got hit by the flu bug and has to take some shots so it will be five weeks or more before she can go.

Aunt Susy Combs, of Litt Carr was in Hindman last week on business. Her adopted son Harry Franklin Combs was with her.

Mrs. Della Bates and Mrs. Lizzie Holbrook, of Kite, were in Hindman last week. Both live in what is known as Punchbowl Creek.

The Alan Brothers bus was in Hindman Monday at 5 a.m. to take some of our boys to service.

Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh E. Young of Greenville, Ohio are visiting Mrs. Young's parents Mr. and Mrs. George E. of Hindman.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Amburges of Cincinnati, Ohio were in Hindman for the weekend visiting their mothers. Mrs. Mervin Amburges and Mrs. Hatfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Cornett, of Greenup, are visiting Mrs. Cornett's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Watts of Pineytop.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Combs of Hazard, visited Mrs. Combs' mother, Mrs. Hattie Bailey of Hindman.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Morris, of Tilford, visited Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Amburges of Hindman Sunday, Oct. 5. Mr. Morris is brother to Mrs. Amburges.

Mrs. Cleve Combs was visiting her son, Jerry Combs in Frankfort and was taken seriously ill. She was operated on successfully.

Judge Orders Consolidation To Be Published

Public advertisement of the consolidation of the Hazard city precincts was ordered today by County Judge J. A. Smith.

The text of the advertisement appears in today's Herald in the classified section.

Signed by Judge Smith and the county magistrates, Burnam Thomas, Gene Combs, Babe C. Noplis, Fess Halcomb, Estill Pollard and Bradley Combs, the order calls for the eleven city precincts to be consolidated into five.

The order apparently clears the way for the use of voting machines in the November election.

Precincts are consolidated as follows:

Walkertown and Wabaco

Walkertown Precinct No. 26 and Wabaco Precinct No. 57 become Walkertown Precinct No. 26. Voters will vote at the vocational school.

Liberty Street Precinct No. 33 and Upper Courthouse No. 34 become Hazard Precinct No. 34. Voters will vote at the Fire Department.

Bulldog Precinct No. 27 and Lower Broadway No. 28 are consolidated to become Broadway Precinct N. 28. Voters will vote in the County Attorney's office at the Courthouse.

The Kentucky Alcoholic Beverage Control Board has refused to reverse an order denying a retail beer license to Elbert Ray Noble for a premise located on Kentucky 15 at Rowdy.

The refusal was first issued Aug. 15 by Malt Beverage Administrator Ernest Thompson. Thompson turned down Noble's request noting:

There is insufficient police protection at the location requested;

A license at the premise would be "contrary to the best interest of the residents of the community."

Three people in the neighborhood have protested that the place, at present, is being operated in a disorderly manner.

Noble appealed Thompson's decision to the A.B.C. board. Their decision was handed down Oct. 10.

Laurel and Baker Hill

Laurel Street Precinct No. 31 and Baker Hill Precinct No. 32 become Baker Hill Precinct No. 32 with voters casting ballots near the ticket office at the Memorial Gymnasium.

Upper Broadway No. 30, Backwoods No. 29 and Blue Grass No. 35 are consolidated to become Middletown Precinct 30 with voters voting at the Red Cross office in the down-stairs of the Courthouse.

Improving Eastern Kentucky Farm Income

Frank Lebus, right, of the Kentucky Agricultural Board, told members of the Eastern Kentucky Planning and Zoning Commission that approval had been given, and funds provided, for research at Morehead State College for swine and sheep production in Eastern Kentucky. The project will concern itself with small mountain farmers. Mr. Lebus also said that a tree nursery in the Hazard or Harlan area is under consideration. Listening to the report are John Whisman, Hazard, Executive Director of the Commission, and B. F. Reed, Drift, the chairman.

Taxpayers Can Save 2 Percent

Taxpayers can save two percent of their county tax bill if they'll pay their taxes before Nov. 1, County Sheriff Paul Amis reminded the public today.

The full amount must be paid on taxes between Nov. 1 and Dec. 31.

On Jan. 1, a penalty of 2 percent is added to the bill of delinquent taxpayers, Amis said.

Taxes can be paid any weekday at the County Sheriff's office.

Fun for the Kiddies

Field Day

The annual Hazard Kiwanis Club "Kid's Day" program will be held this Saturday at Collins Field, Joe Brophy, club publicity chairman, announced today.

Field events are again planned. Free foods will be served, Brophy said.

A new requirement for entering, however, is that children must give their names to their grade school principals sometime this week. Brophy said this is to avoid confusion. He noted the annual event has grown by leaps and bounds.

Brophy said any child 15 years and under can enter the field day program. The event is open to students of the county and city schools. He advised participants to bring their own bicycles and sacks.

District P.T.A. To Hold Conference, Thursday

President of Congress To Address Conference

The program for the Fourth District Fall Conference of the Kentucky Conference of Parent and Teachers was announced today by Mrs. James R. Brown, district president.

Principal speaker will be Mrs. Raymond Bolton, president of the Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The conference will be held Thursday at the Walkertown Elementary School, starting with registration at 9 a.m. Ten East Kentucky Counties will participate.

Morning Session is as follows: 10:00, board meeting, 10:30, call to order by Mrs. Brown; devotional by Mrs. Troy Stallard, Character and Spiritual Education Chairman; welcome by Mr. William Browning, principal, Walkertown Elementary; response by Mrs. Robert Snowden, district vice-president, introduction of guests, district officers and unit presidents, business session, music by Mrs. C. Counties to be represented at the conference will be Breathitt, Knott, Lee, Leslie, Letcher, Minifie, Morgan, Owsley Perry and Wolfe.

2 Firms Share County School's Milk Business

M. C. Napier's "milk" business, questioned last week by member of the Perry County School Board, is divided between two local dairies. School Principal Vernon Miniard said his morning.

Mr. Miniard said he split the business between Pet Dairy and "Happell's" Dairy when he was named principal in September. Chappell's Mr. Miniard said, receives the milk business while Pet Dairy receives the "ice cream" business.

Mr. Miniard said he did not know what policy other schools were following but that he divided the business at Napier in an effort to be "fair" to both dairies.

The matter of Napier's milk business came up last Monday when School Board Member Paul Campbell questioned whether one dairy was getting all the business.

Chavies Resident Dies At Hospital

Simpson Fugate, of Chavies, died, Oct. 12 at the Mt. Mary Hospital, at the age of 81. He was a member of the Regular Baptist Church at Chavies and was a life long resident of Chavies.

He is survived by his wife, Rachel Fugate of Chavies, five sons: Ben, John, and Sam of Chavies; Joe of Lebanon, Ohio; and Carl. Five daughters, Mrs. Mollie Duff, Chavies; Mrs. Laura Sturgill, Versailles; Mrs. Jane Heckley of Ohio; Mrs. Alice Tackett, Ohio and Mrs. Orpha Mae Fugate of Pennsylvania. Also surviving are three brothers.

Funeral service were at the Regular Baptist Church, Oct. 14 at 1 p.m. Adrian McDonald and Tom Stidham officiating.

Minister Burci was in the Red Hill Cemetery at Chavies. The Maggad Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

He also noted,

"If you're going to bring in new industry, you've also got to have water protection.

"I see great prospects ahead of us in each county; we will organize to determine what the Federal and State governments can do for us."

Urban Renewal Cited

Morton called for persistence and imaginative "local leadership" to hasten progress and cited Hazard's urban-renewal project and slum-clearance programs as examples of close cooperation among State Federal, and local government.

Noting that the coal industry is still the foundation of this area's economy, Morton said the region must diversify. He suggested timber and the manufacture of paper as possibilities, once the region's transportation system is developed.

(5) For the City of Hazard, this is the ONE chance to improve sewage facilities with FEDERAL AID. Plans for the extension of the trunk system and for the construction of the Disposal Plant have already been drawn. Also, the site for this Plant has been tentatively selected. The Kentucky Water Pollution Control Commission has promised in an open meeting that immediate efforts will be made to clean up the river above Hazard once construction on this project is started.

The City of Hazard constructed its original sewer system, its original Water Works, the old City Hall, now the City Jail and Fire Department, and the dam at the water plant with the proceeds of general obligation bonds which the people voted in 1922 and 1924. All these bonds have been paid since the City Manager form of government went into effect January 1st, 1938, although nothing had been paid on the principal of either of these issues prior of that time.

If the Sewer Service charge is sufficient in the aggregate to meet the bonds, the issue of which the people of Hazard are asked to approve at the November election, as the same became due from year to year, with interest, then nothing need be added to the rate of taxation now prevailing, which is the same as the rate when Hazard was a Fourth Class City.

City Manager Explains Sewer Bond Referendum

By City Manager Robert Wooten

The Board of Commissioners of the City of Hazard, meeting in regular session October 6, 1958, unanimously approving a motion that the question of the proposed BOND ISSUE, for the construction of sewer improvements, including a SEWAGE DISPOSAL PLANT, for the City of Hazard, at an estimated cost of $687,000.00, be explained as fully as possible to the voters of this city.

The question, as it will appear on the ballot is:

"Shall the City of Hazard incur indebtedness in the sum of Five Hundred Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars, ($325,000.00) and issue and sell therefor its General Obligation Bonds, payable as to both principal and interest from unlimited taxation, for the purpose of paying all or part of costs of providing sewer improvements, including a sewage treatment plant, and all expenses incident thereto?

(For public notice of bond issue and sewer improvement, see classified ad section).

Some of the main points to remember about this project are as follows:

(1) The Board of Commissioners, at first had in mind to pass a revenue bond issue to cover the City of Hazard's part of this obligation, but the interest rate on the debt would have been considerably higher. The Kentucky Company, Fiscal Agent for this project, estimates that the overall cost would have been at least ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS ($100,000.00) more. The Board of Commissioners, therefore, decided to resort to the General Obligation Bond in order to cut costs.

(2) Financing of this improvement will be shared by the City of Hazard and the Federal Government. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare, operating under Public Law 600, has reserved the sum of $206,250.00, which will be applied toward the construction of this particular project, providing the Bond Issue is approved.

(3) The words in the question, "Unlimited Taxation" simply means that whatever taxation is necessary to meet principal and interest requirements of the incurred debt can be levied. Actually, no raise in taxation is being considered. The plan is simply to raise the Sewage Service Charge, which is now being applied to water bills, sufficiently to meet this obligation. However, should it become necessary, taxation CAN be levied by the Board of Commissioners to meet any deficit that might occur. This is the reason the interest rate on this General Obligation Bond is lower than the interest rate on a Revenue Bond Issue, as the full faith and credit of the City of Hazard is pledged to meet this obligation should it become necessary. A good example of his situation is the Road Bond Issue recently passed by the State of Kentucky. The principal and interest requirements of the Road Bond Issue is being retired entirely from revenues derived from the Gasoline and Oil Tax. However, at the same time, the entire faith and credit of the State of Kentucky is pledged to retire this debt since the people of the State passed the General Obligation Issue, and that means that State taxes can be raised should principal and interest requirements become delinquent.

(4) Under the Sewer Service Charge system, no person will pay this charge unless he has sewage facilities that connect into the City of Hazard's Main Line Sewers. However, where it is possible for main line connections to be made within the City limits, strict adherence to existing rules and regulations will be enforced. This, of course, is for the protection of all citizens within the City.

Cooper, Morton Cite Transportation As Basic Problem

Approximately 3,000 Eastern Kentuckians honored Senators John Sherman Cooper and Thruston B. Morton here Saturday morning, and, in turn, were praised by the two senators for the progress which he made to this region within the past several years, especially since the flood.

Cooper and Morton spoke briefly from a grandstand at the Perry County Courthouse at the conclusion of a 30-minute parade through downtown Hazard and were presented the keys to the city by Hazard Mayo Douglass Combs.

He cautioned, however: "Industry will never come here until we have adequate water control and an efficient transportation system."

Morton said that while "we're starting late on river development," progress is being made.

With reference to the coal industry Cooper urged "better freight rates and better production" to keep Southeastern Kentucky's coal competitive.

Morton was credited by Fred Bullard, executive secretary, Hazard Coal Operator's Association, with opening the Florida market for Kentucky coal by obtaining a reduction in freight rates.

Discrediting talk that "not much has been done in Eastern Kentucky," Senator Cooper said:

"In the past three years, we have made plans for these three river valleys, the Kentucky, Big Sandy, and Cumberland, that will bring about development."

He said that programs started by the State and Federal governments in the past several years will eventually lead to more than $200,000,000 being spent in the region.

"Just in the past few years," Senator Cooper continued, "there has been $70,000,000 to $75,000,000 spent to help Eastern Kentucky."

Taking note of flood recovery, Senator Cooper said:

"I congratulate you for many things. I think it was but 1½ years ago that I came to Hazard and there was a sea of mud where you are now standing. In this short space of time, you have not only brought about a recovery of your town and country, but you have improved it."

Both senators suggested programs which they indicated could contribute to the development of this region.

Says Airport Needed

Senator Cooper called for "more attention to tourists." said Southeastern Kentucky needs a commercial airport, and stressed the importance of a "great system of roads" from Ashland and Lexington basic to the area's transportation problems and industrial development.

He also noted,

"If you're going to bring in new industry, you've also got to have water protection.

"I see great prospects ahead of us in each county; we will organize to determine what the Federal and State governments can do for us."

To Address PTA

Dr. Frank G. Dickey, president, University of Kentucky, will address the M. C. Napier Parent Teacher's Association, Monday, Oct. 20, at 6:00 p.m.

In the high school cafeteria. Parents and friends of the school are urged to attend. The regular meeting hour has been advanced one-half hour to permit Dr. Dickey to speak to the Napier P.T.A.

William B. Hall Named UKREA President

William B. Hall, superintendent, Letcher County Schools, was elected president of the Upper Kentucky River Educational Association during the final session of the three-day conference Saturday.

Hall succeeds H. M. Wesley, principal, Hazard High School, to the one year term.

Other officers elected were: Morton Combs, principal, Carr Creek High School, one-year term; C. V. Snapp, Jenkins, and Mr. Wesley, National Education Association delegates, and Beckham Combs, Hindman and Dennis Wooten, superintendent, Perry County Schools, Kentucky Education Association delegates.

Named to the K.E.A. board of directors was Millard Tolliver, principal, Breathitt County High School, to fill out the term of Joe Caudill.

Estill McIntyre was named to the nominating committee of the Teacher Retirement.

Wyatt Promises To Tear Down Fences, Alolish Charges At Parks

Wilson W. Wyatt told West Kentucky audiences last week that he would "revitalize Kentucky State Park System and return to the philosophy that public parks are for public enjoyment."

"One of my first acts as Governor would be to tear down the fences around the swimming areas in the State Parks so that the people visiting these attractions can do so without charge," Wyatt said.

"I would also return the State Parks to State control and eliminate the concessionaries appointed by the Chandler-Waterfield Administration. There will be no place in my administration for these political favorites who for the past three years have been gouging the public for personal gain."

"It is my feeling that the people of Kentucky have a right to enjoy their parks without being charged to death with petty fees at every turn."

Wyatt also said that he would

Kenton Painted Lashed To Wild Indian Horse

Charles F. Hinds
Kentucky Historical Society
"Simon Kenton's Ride," a large painting by William Walcutt, is one of the favorite exhibits on display in the Old State Capitol to some 12,000 children who visit the Kentucky Historical Society each year in school groups.

Walcutt's painting was based on lithographs drawn by two famous European artists, Jean Francois Millet and Karl Bodmer, and published by them in 1852 under the title, "Mazepa American."

Millet drew the Indian figures and that of Simon Kenton stripped to the waist and lashed to a wild horse. Bodmer, a Swiss artist, the only one of the two who had seen and studied Indians in America, drew the horse and the landscape. Walcutt's deviations from the original are in favor of a more naturalistic handling of the scene.

The capture of Kaskaskia by George Rogers Clark in the summer of 1778 fired Colonel John Bowman of Kentucky to carry the War of the American Revolution to the Shawnee allies of the British in Ohio. With this in mind, Simon Kenton and two others were sent to spy out the Shawnees at Chillicothe.

"I would set up an advance reservation system for tourists which would help them find lodgings and accommodations in the many fine private facilities around Kentucky Lake as well as in the cottages and hotels operated by the Division of Parks," Wyatt said.

"And the same would hold true all over Kentucky—not just here in the Western part.

Not content with obtaining the required military information Bowman would need for his expedition, the three scouts commanded seven of the finest Indian horses they could find. The Indians followed in quick pursuit, captured Kenton and killed one of the scouts, the third one getting away.

The Shawnees tortured Kenton, then, one Bonah by name, said: "Young man, didn't you know it was wrong to steal Indian's horses? Don't you know the Great Spirit doesn't love people that steal?" This was followed by a beating by Bonah and his Indian comrades.

The following day was reserved for a special kind of torture to suit the offense. Simon Kenton was lashed to the back of an unbroken, three-old horse, which was turned loose with its unwilling rider through the thick undergrowth and forest, a cruel scourge which became known far and wide on the frontier. This was the famous "Mazepa American" or "Simon Kenton's Ride," as it is better known in America.

MY COLUMN

E. Hampton Barnett

The other day I was looking for some friends in my parish. I rang a door bell which brought a very friendly man to the door. He invited me in. I asked him directions to the home of my friend. He walked out on the soft Florida lawn, and very cordially engaged in a conversation with me. I was not looking for any one to begin cutting on me at that time, but I was interested to know how he was getting along as a retired man after many years of skillfully banding the knife.

He said that we all must come to the time when we should retire from our vocations, but we must find some interests in life if we expect to live very long.

There are a few things that I have learned from the scores of retired people with whom I come in contact every day. One is that a person should have sufficient income for the necessities of life. Each of us must have something useful and interesting to keep us employed. Then a person must adjust himself to living in a new world—a retired world.

Money is not the answer to retirement. I know many who have plenty of money, but little happiness. They want to feel that they have a place of usefulness in life. They say that money does not disturb them, but time, time, and endless restlessness is their problem. Fishing, hobbies, reading, travel, visiting, and all other amusements leave them with the idea that they come to the evening with the black stare of the night in their faces, only to say, "What will I do tomorrow?"

It is just necessary to prepare for retirement in these modern days as it is for the work we must do. One who makes no preparation for his leisure years will certainly find himself a lonely, sad, wondering, bewildered, and confused person. The farmer who owns his own farm and all he surveys has little less of a problem than those in professions and industry. The farmer can always find something to do, even if it is only hunting hen's nests. But the professional person comes to the end of his service and must jump off at the deep end, and sometimes it is very deep, dark and dismal. The teachers must give up their class rooms, preachers must surrender their pulpits, the doctors their patients, the bankers their money, and the laborer his tools. About the only person in our way of life that can live on until he is as useless as a worn out shoe, is the politician. He can hold his job, draw his salary, much of it unused, while other sections of our population must retire.

The reason for that is the law-makers can make laws for the other fellow, while they hold on, sometimes until they are far in debt, or have worn out their pants sitting around the court house and living off the tax-payers. This, frankly, is one of the inequalities of our people.

Politicians should come under the same laws that other people must live under. If you are required to retire at 65, the politician should be forced to retire at that age. But again, they make the laws of inequality. They can go on and on in office but you must retire at an age they set for you.

There are many useful things you can do if you are retired. Don't just sit around and complain, "I am just in the way." Become helpful in your community. Help your neighbors shuck corn, dig potatoes, feed the stock, grind the grain, chop wood, build fences, cut lawns, run errands, and help about the house. You want to live longer, don't you? Well, the only way you can do that is to keep going at something helpful and useful.

Did you ever try helping your minister? Helping sick friends? Taking care of children while the family must work? Get into the games of living, and stretch out your lives, ye retired people, to long lives.

Now, I must grant you I have known people who have been retired most of their lives. They are not guilty of working. That lazy bunch have no trouble with time, they have never used any of it for work. But those who have worked all their lives are the ones we are concerned about.

As the record now stands, one only lives a few years after he retires. That record can be bettered by getting into some useful occupations whether you get paid for it or not. We had just as well learn the sad lesson that industry, professions, and private enterprises are not going to hire you after you are "Too old." That "too old" time often comes about the age of fifty. At that age most normal people are in the height of their most productive years. Neither shall you expect the politicians to give you help by making laws to benefit those who are old, by helping them to get work—they will not.
